BIO

Christopher Yip is a writer and director with several projects premiering in 2022. His original digital series Streams Flow From a River goes to camera in the spring, produced by Shant Joshi of Fae Pictures. Fish Boy, supported by the Toronto Arts Council, the National Film Board, and the Canada Council of the Arts, will be shot and completed for submission to the Sundance Film Festival in the fall. Born and raised in Edmonton, AB, Christopher's work explores love, family, and sexuality through a distinct diasporic lens. His goal is to tell the kinds of stories he wished he had seen as a kid: ones centered on and featuring strong and compelling Queer and Asian characters.
